The Well!

A publication of LifeSpring Christian Church

I noticed the other day that many stores now have the "school lists" for the different districts in the area. If you don't have kids, you may not know what I'm talking about. Each of the schools puts together a list of supplies they recommend for the kids to have at the start of the school year.

My daughters will begin working with the marching band from school on August 1. Athletes who are competing in Fall sports will formally begin practice. Everywhere you look, the routine is beginning to take place for a new school year.

Can I make a recommendation? As you build your family's weekly schedule of commitments, please leave room for your involvement with your church family. Very soon, LifeSpring will publish our menu of LifeTeams (adult small groups) and R717 activities (R717 is our ministry to middle school and high school students). You need to spend time with God more often than once a week, and you need to spend time with your church family more often than once a week.

Hope you are having a good week. Let's make the most of these last few days of summer vacation!

Thought for Today

Why do we rush toward complexity, yet yearn for simplicity?

G.K. Chesterton [adapted]

This Week @ LifeSpring

BETTER TOGETHER When We Practice Patience

When you live in a community, waiting is inevitable. You would think we would get used to it. But that takes practice. How much better our lives are when we do! How much better our relationships are when we do! This week @ LifeSpring, we will talk about ways to nurture patience in our hearts.
