Thought For Today

You can tell the size of your God by looking at the length of your worry list. The longer your list, the smaller your God.

All Things Are Possible...

If We Use All Our Strength

I was reminded of a story this past week about a little boy who was out helping dad with the yard work. Dad asked him to pick up the rocks in a certain area of the yard. Dad looked over and saw him struggling to pull up a huge rock buried in the dirt. The little boy struggled and struggled while Dad watched. Finally, the boy gave up and said, "I can't do it." Dad asked, "Did you use all of your strength?" The little boy looked hurt and said, "Yes, sir. I used every ounce of strength I have." The father smiled and said, "No you didn't. You didn't ask me to help." The father walked over and then the two of them pulled that big rock out of the dirt.

Is there a rock in your yard that is too big for you to handle? I have a lot of questions in my life that I have been trying to answer for a long time. No matter how hard I try, I can't force the answers to come. All I can do is keeping seeking God, trusting that His power and wisdom will help me get each rock out of my yard at just the right time.

(The story about the boy and the rock were included in an e-newsletter from Preaching.com, submitted by Billy D. Strayhorn, "Freedom Through The Yoke.")

BETTER TOGETHER When We Practice Integrity

Do we really live up to the values we claim? One of the best book titles I ever saw captures the sentiments most people have. "I'd Rather SEE A Sermon Than HEAR One Any Day." Come Sunday, and HEAR a sermon that hopefully helps you know how to BE the sermon people most need to see.
